

GO CONFIDENTLY TOWARD YOUR DREAMS

Growing up, I had a passion for living and was filled with so many different dreams and aspirations. My problem was that I was just sitting around waiting for someone to hand me my dreams on a silver platter. All that changed when I discovered Arbonne.

Last fall, I transferred schools to finish my education. Knowing that I was going to have a tough semester, I began to look for a way to make extra cash without giving up too many hours. When I was first introduced to Arbonne, I had some reservations. At the time, I was involved with a different network marketing company and had little success. However, I knew that there was success to be found in the network marketing field, so after researching the company and the products, I decided to give it a shot. At first, I did not see the full potential of this opportunity. I saw my age as an obstacle and was sure that no one would take me seriously, so I stayed in my comfort zone and let a fear of rejection and failure hold me back.

Last December, I was faced with many personal struggles. I can remember my dad telling me that God had a plan for my life, and that I had to trust and allow Him to show me this plan. Three weeks later, I met my future husband. After four short months together, we got engaged. My husband is a full-time student and enjoys playing college basketball. I knew from the start that I wanted to do everything I could to support his passion. It was then that I recognized the potential of the Arbonne opportunity in front of me, and decided to go for it. We are now able to continue our education without financial concerns and enjoy the beginning of our life together.

I no longer look at my age as an obstacle; instead, I see it as an opportunity. At the age of 21, I have been able to accomplish things that take most people a lifetime to accomplish. Situations that once instilled fear now excite me. My passion for living has returned. Looking back on my life, I realize that I had forgotten how to dream. Thanks to Arbonne, I have dusted off my dreams and am ready to embrace my future. As the saying goes, the future is open to those who believe in the possibility of dreams.

I believe that success in Arbonne is directly related to building relationships, establishing a team of partners with the same goal and motivating them to be the best that they can be.
