

AN ABUNDANT HARVEST

My Arbonne journey began when my husband's job required him to travel to California. We are both Georgia natives and had lived in California for three years during the early '90s. While living there, we became friends with Kristin and Daryl VanderVeen, and had kept in touch over the years. My husband, Chip, visited the VanderVeens during a business trip to California in May 2004, when Kristin gave him Arbonne sample products for me to try. I used the products and could see results after only three days. I bought the NutriMinC® RE° skin care line, as well as additional products, and slowly began to consider Arbonne as a business.

After talking with Kristin and learning more about her Arbonne business, I was amazed at the rapid success she had achieved. As a registered dietitian, I enjoyed my work and was not looking for a home-based business. However, the more I learned about Arbonne, the more impressed I became. We are at a point in our lives where college expenses and retirement will soon be a reality. Arbonne's potential for extra income to help out in these areas in the future was very attractive. The Arbonne pledge of "pure, safe, beneficial" products, together with the integrity of the company, definitely helped me make the decision to build a business. Kristin came to Georgia in February 2005 to help launch my business. At that time, I never imagined she and her family would come back to Georgia in less than a year to attend my Mercedes-Benz presentation, but that is exactly what happened!

It has been an amazing journey so far! I am very blessed to be where I am today. I owe so much to God and the many people who have helped me get to this point. It had been my husband's prayer for several years that we would own our own business which the entire family could be involved with. He never dreamed I would be the one starting that business or that it would be in the skin care industry! We like to use the analogy of an abundant harvest when discussing this business because it is so fitting. We strongly believe we reap what we sow whether it is generosity, kindness, love or even abundance. I have made it a priority to sow abundantly in my business and I am grateful to be in a position to begin reaping some of the harvest.

I have learned many lessons during my Arbonne journey and have experienced unbelievable personal growth as a result. I have learned to not hesitate and to overcome timidity. Words spoken by an ENVP recently at an Arbonne training in Kentucky really hit home when she said, “While one person hesitates for feeling inferior, another person is making mistakes and making themselves superior.” This is great advice. I encourage everyone to act quickly now, and learn about the products and company while growing your business. I have also learned that constant and consistent activity is the key to success. Dreams become reality when we truly believe and take action. Finally, this business has strengthened my understanding of the value of relationships and the power of prayer. This is a people business and we can only succeed by helping others.

I want to thank the many people who have helped me on my Arbonne journey. Special thanks to my dear friend and sponsor, ENVP Kristin VanderVeen, for introducing me to Arbonne. Kristin: Thank you for your patience and support along the way. You lead by example and run your business with honesty, integrity and ethics.

AM Lisa Newberry: You are a great friend and my first business builder. I have enjoyed rekindling our friendship, speaking often on the phone and traveling together to Arbonne trainings. I look forward to attending your Mercedes-Benz presentation soon!

AM Shannon McDaniel: You have worked so hard to develop your team and have become an awesome leader. Thanks for sharing your knowledge of network marketing and for providing ideas on growing our business.

AM-in-qualification Grace Pruitt: You have such enthusiasm for this business and a giving heart. I look forward to watching your team grow.

To DMs, Krista Staton, Jasmine McMillian, Connie Thomas, Vickie Greer, Wanda Golden, Cherie VanCleave, Cletia Mansfield, Julie McLeod, Laura Trimble, Jane Brown and Cherie Peachey: Thank you all for joining my team. I know each of you will be successful as you stay clearly focused and active in your business. To all my DMs-in-qualification: This is an awesome opportunity and you have made a great decision. To all the Consultants who purchase products: You all are a critical part of my business and a key to my success. A special thank you goes out to Dean and Melanie Grant, and Kathryn Guerrero for their friendship and support.

To my husband, Chip: You are my greatest fan, always believing in this opportunity and encouraging me from the beginning. You quickly saw the potential of this business and have been there to help me in many ways. Thank you for your quiet, calm encouragement and love. To my children, Hannah and Jack: Thank you for your patience and for always being Arbonne ambassadors, sharing products and spreading the word about Arbonne!

To anyone interested in starting their own Arbonne business, this can be an incredible journey and one that will bring you many rewards. Do not hesitate, now is the time to begin your business and start reaching your goals!
