POWER OF PASSION

I love Arbonne! I am so grateful for what Arbonne has brought to my family and me. For three years, I have been passionate about this company. I truly believe that Arbonne has the best products available — bar none. I am not a cosmetic chemist; however, I am a chemical engineer with a passion for prevention and wellness. From the beginning, I was blown away by the ingredients in the Arbonne products. I felt a need to tell everyone I knew (and even those I did not know!) about these incredible products that work really well and how important this knowledge was for them.

Now, I am even more passionate about the opportunity provided by Arbonne that is truly making a difference in people’s lives. Before I was introduced to Arbonne, I felt network marketing was a brilliant idea, but it seemed that most of these companies were more concerned with their marketing than they were with their products. Since I fell in love with Arbonne’s products first, I quickly realized the unlimited potential of a foundation based upon superior products that, once tried, practically sold themselves.

I always believed I would succeed, because once I commit to a goal, I do not give up. Anyone who has determination, enthusiasm and adopts a no-matter-what attitude will succeed in this company. Arbonne provides the advantage of superior products, genuine integrity and experienced leadership to allow anyone to participate in the unparalleled growth of the skin care industry. Even though I still get excited about our always-improving product lines, I am even more excited about the opportunity Arbonne presents.

I used to think getting to the top required a special talent few possessed. However, I have watched people every day, from all walks of life become strong leaders and promote to top levels in Arbonne.

I believe by following a simple proven system anyone can become successful with Arbonne. By making a simple commitment, and by taking action, the untapped potential we all have within ourselves can be realized.

Our Region’s name, Selfless Journey, is a testament to the philosophy of our team members. Their success can be directly attributed to their commitment to personal growth, to developing the potential of all of our team members and by focusing on team goals. We know our personal success is founded upon the success of others. Our main focus is not how we can benefit from Arbonne, but how we can use Arbonne to benefit others. This is the power in taking a “selfless” journey.

success strategy:

“ Stay connected to your team, give generous recognition and keep your heart focused on helping others. ”

I was personally sponsored by NVP Holly Warnol and will be forever thankful to her for introducing me to the potential of Arbonne. I have such a grateful heart for RVP Lori Loza and NVP Sibley Gammon for inviting us to join in their training. The subsequent success and growth of our team can be directly attributed to this. Sibley, thank you from the bottom of my heart for sharing! It was your contagious enthusiasm and unwavering belief that started us on a new path to success.

People thought I had lost it when I decided to give up my job as a chemical engineer to pursue a career in Arbonne. What happened was I had actually finally gotten it. However, it takes a team to get you to the top. Now, they have got it, too! They realize that, as great of a gift Arbonne products are, the opportunity is so much more. Our team now sees it as their duty to share that opportunity. As passionate as we are about skin care, we are far more passionate about helping others make positive changes in their lives, including dramatic shifts in their income.

Our team really took off in January, and by February our dream team became truly team oriented. Many of them stepped far out of their comfort zones to share their enthusiasm with others. We took the focus off of them, off of the outcome, off of the “nos” and off of the apprehension of approaching others. We finished Region qualification in two months.

I am so proud of our Region. They have amazed me even though I knew they had it in them all along. They focused, had fun and worked hard. I am so honored to be their friend and I am so very blessed to be a part of this team. They have given and taught me more than I could ever give or teach them. I cannot wait until you get here, dream team!

The integrity of Arbonne is awesome. Thank you to Executive Vice President Stian Mørck, Founder Petter Mørck, Sr. VP Product Development & Marketing, Candace Keefe and everyone at the Home Office. President Rita Davenport: You and my husband are my mentors. I hope to be more like both of you every day — genuine, loving, caring, and so, so generous!

To my selfless husband, James: Thanks for all the times you pulled all the weight and supported me while your only complaint was that you missed me. You are my life and none of this would be possible or meaningful without you! I love you always and forever. To my three angels, 7-year-old twins, Jared and Christian and my 6-year-old daughter, Kirié Elise: Thank you for all your help. You have learned so much about your health and having a business. As Jared realized at age 5, you just have to buy more Arbonne products so you can share more! I love you all a million times the universe!
